

I strongly disagree with the proposed increase in building height in the Shell Cove marina precinct. The increased height restrictions make what is already an overdeveloped area, more unsightly, and increases the strain on local resources.