

An increase in height limits will result in overcrowding. With a lack of infrastructure to support the proposed additional increase in dwellings in and around Shell Cove. No consultation with the residents has been held. The environmental impact will greatly impact the local area and marine life.