

I have bought a townhouse at the marina and was under the impression that the multi level building heights would not be changing and that no more stories would be added.

The increase in stories/dwelling will put pressure on parking and local infrastructure and this doesn't even take visitors into account.

Many residents will lose their views due to the eyesore of the 11 story hotel and apartment increases around the marina.

My townhouse purchase and many land purchases have all been made with little information about the changes.

This increase in height will be an absolute eyesore for the whole of Shellharbour and the surrounding areas.
