I am concerned that Shore school has now applied for approval for a massive overdevelopment of the Graythwaite site. I think the removal of 85 significant trees including 3 Historic Fig trees
Clearing of all of the undergrowth in the forest area to turn it into a grassland is both morally & environmentally wrong for so many reasons.
Building of two massive over-sized over-height structures that will house an extra 500 students
And no guarantee at all that more will not follow, in fact the plans foreshadow that this is just the start. - This will lead to so much more congestion in the local area with extra parking required for teachers cars and the impact of parking and traffic in local streets will be enormous.
We feel there needs to be a public inquiry into this matter and that whilst some development would be permissible, the scale of the current proposal is too enormous and would have too great an impact on the local roads, community and environment.
Thank you for reading my comments, please act on this issue!
