SUBJECT: ABORIGINAL CULTURAL HERITAGE ASSESSMENT
Lot A in DP 392643,
Horsley Park

Attention: Gordon Kirkby

A representative of the Deerubbin Local Aboriginal Land Council inspected Lot A in DP392643, Horsley Park on 15 July 2010. An Aboriginal cultural heritage assessment was undertaken to evaluate the likely impact of proposed developments have on the cultural heritage of the land. Consulting archaeologist Lyndon Paterson of Godden MacKay Logan undertook a scientific survey at the same time.

Our representative reports that, Aboriginal cultural material (in the form of stone artefacts, for example) were found within the study area.

Deerubbin Local Aboriginal Land Council therefore, recommends further investigations with test excavation program before any development occurs.

Yours Sincerely

Attention: Lyndon Patterson.

Subject: Horsley Park Property – Darug Cultural Heritage Assessment.

Dear Lyndon,

The Darug Custodian Aboriginal Corporation attended the Horsley Park Property on the 28th of January 2011, we also received a preliminary archaeological report from GML in regards to this property.

The area of Horsley park is within Darug boundaries. The area along the creek line definitely has potential for being a continuous Darug Site evidence of this is shown near the dam with the identification of artefacts on the exposed soil. Due to the thick vegetation along the creek line no other Artefacts were identified, this is only due to the coverage.

Our group's main aims are to conserve Darug sites and to promote Darug culture and awareness. We would like to see the creekline and buffer zones preserved as far out as possible from the creek with interpretive signs added as part of the development.

All areas within development areas need to have further investigations where there is potential for Darug sites as set out within the report.

Our group supports the findings and recommendations set out within the report prepared by GML.

Please contact us with all further enquiries on the above contacts.

Regards

Leanne Watson
