Dear Sir,

Re: Amendment to Licence to Keep Dangerous Goods

I refer to your form we recently received concerning a licence to keep dangerous goods at our property at 2-18 Parramatta Road, Homebush. My discussion with a member of your office revealed you had on record for the property an underground storage tank and a lpg cylinder tank.

I inspected the property today with Baillieu Knight Frank, our Managing Agents and now advise the following:

- The underground storage tank on the premises was used to store oil for air-conditioning equipment. The property is now approximately 60% vacant and the tank will be drained during the next two weeks. The level in the tank is low at present.
- We were unable to locate any LPG cylinder tank. In previous times, when the property was almost fully tenanted, we believe the LPG cylinder tank was utilised by a prior tenant to refuel numerous forklifts used by them. This tenant vacated the property some 18 months ago now and took the cylinder with them.

I have completed the front section only of the form you sent us as I noted it referred to "Application for new licence, amendment or transfer". Would you therefore amend your records to reflect the new details. Please call me direct on 908-0612 if you have any questions.

Yours faithfully,
EMI PROPERTIES PTY. LIMITED
